

June is National Vitiligo Awareness Month

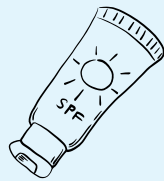

Vitiligo is a benign skin condition characterized by the loss of pigment-producing cells that are responsible for producing melanin, resulting in well-defined white patches of skin and even hair. Early signs include small, pale spots that gradually expand and become more noticeable. While there is no cure, there are treatment options that can help manage its appearance and progression. If you notice changes in your skin or have concerns about vitiligo, schedule a consultation with us for your own personalized care plan.

Did You Know?

Did you know that when citrus juice is combined with sunlight on the skin it can cause a rash? This reaction is called Phytophotodermatitis. It can cause red, itchy patches, blisters, or even dark streaks that look like burns. It's most common to occur while doing regular activities outdoors like eating, cooking, or enjoying summer drinks. To prevent it, be sure to wash your skin thoroughly after handling citrus and to wear sun protection when spending time outside.

Summer Skin Care Tips for Healthy Skin

Apply Broad-Spectrum Sunscreen

Use SPF 30 or higher, and reapply every 2 hours—if you'll be spending extended time outdoors we recommend using an SPF of 50 or higher.

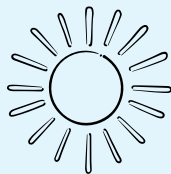

Stay Hydrated

Drink plenty of water to support skin hydration and overall cellular function.

Wear Protective Clothing

Opt for wide-brimmed hats, sunglasses, and UPF-rated clothing to minimize direct sun exposure.

Avoid Peak Sun Hours

Seek shade and limit outdoor activity between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., when UV rays are strongest.
